Full Walkthrough: From Set Up to First Use

Your first session with ImageSkinForLLM: a talking avatar, your own PDF, then your own face and voice.

The route

1. Set up a default avatar
2. Talk with the avatar
3. Add a PDF
4. Keep the avatar to the PDF
5. Use your own photo
6. Use your own voice
7. Edit the wiki

You need: one PDF, one clear photo of your face, and 30 seconds or more of your voice recorded in a quiet room. Parts 1 to 4 take about 15 minutes. Parts 5 and 6 each wait about 20 minutes for the video to be prepared.

Open the app first. Hosted: go to your site's address and sign in. Laptop: run `imageskin serve`, wait for "Loading has completed. The application is ready for use.", then open `http://127.0.0.1:8000`. You should see Welcome with Start now and Start setup.

1. Set up a default avatar

1. Click Start now.
2. Choose an Accent (American or British) and a Look (Photorealistic or Animated).
3. Click a face you like.
4. Click the Start now button.
   Check: it counts through "Step 1 of 3: Downloading the avatar..." to "Step 3 of 3".

✓ Check the theme.
Check: the Chat page opens with your avatar, blinking now and then while it waits.

2. Talk with the avatar

1. Type “Tell me a fun fact about octopuses.” and press Enter.
   Check: the avatar speaks the answer, lips in time with the words, as the text appears.
2. Type “Tell me another one.” and press Enter.
   Check: it carries on from the last answer.
3. Hold Hold to talk, ask a question out loud, then let go (Chrome or Edge). Allow the microphone if asked.
   Check: your words appear in the box and are sent.

✓ Check the theme: click Show history and search for “octopus”.
Check: the matches are highlighted, counted as “1 of N”.

3. Add a PDF

1. Click Manage Content in the top bar.
2. Click Add PDFs and pick a PDF (up to 100 MB).
   Check: it shows “Reading page 1 of N…”, then “Read N pages”.
3. Wait while the wiki is built. This takes about 20 to 40 seconds for each part of the PDF.
   Check: “Building the wiki: part 1 of N” counts up, then shows “Wiki ready: N topics · Read the wiki”.
4. Click Read the wiki.
   Check: the PDF's topics are listed, each with links to its PDF pages.

✓ Check the theme: in Chat, ask “What topics can you talk about?”
Check: the avatar names your PDF's topics, and example questions appear under the box. Click one to ask it.

4. Keep the avatar to the PDF

1. Click Settings (top right). Under Chat, untick Answer questions outside the content (it is unticked to begin with).

✓ Check the theme: in Chat, ask something the PDF doesn't cover, such as “What is the capital of France?”
Check: the avatar says “Sorry, I can only answer questions about the material I was given” and suggests topics from the PDF.

✓ Ask a question the PDF does answer.
Check: you get a full answer.

1. Go to Settings, then Avatar Choice, and click Use your own photo and voice.
2. Tick I have the right to use the photos… and click Continue.
   Check: the Setup page opens.
3. Under Photos, click Add photos and pick a clear, front-facing photo of yourself.
   Check: it says "Looks good · score N of 100", or tells you what to fix.
4. Skip Voice recordings for now.
   Check: No recordings? says "In use now", so for now the photo speaks in a ready-made voice.
5. Click Prepare the video. The first time takes about 20 minutes, and you can leave the page meanwhile.
   Check: the progress bar fills and each step is ticked off.
6. Watch the sample video, then click Accept.
7. ✓ Check the theme.
   Check: the chat opens, and your own face answers your questions.

6. Use your own voice

1. Go to Settings, then Avatar Choice, and click Change recordings.
2. Click Add recordings and pick your recordings (WAV, M4A or MP3). Each needs 15 seconds or more of speech, and all of them together 30 seconds or more.
   Check: each says "Looks good · 0:40 of speech" (or similar), and Voice sample says "Enough speech to make the voice." Play it to hear yourself.
3. Under Accent, keep Their own accent, or pick American or British.
4. Click the Prepare button (Prepare again), watch the new sample video, and click Accept.
5. ✓ Check the theme: ask a question in Chat.
   Check: your face answers in your own voice.

7. Edit the wiki

1. Go to Manage Content and click Read the wiki.
2. Click Edit under a main topic. Change its Title (or Summary) and click Save.
   Check: it shows your text, marked "Edited by you.", with an Undo my edit link to put the original back.
3. ✓ Check the theme: in Chat, ask "What topics can you talk about?"
   Check: the avatar says your new title.

> Done. To go back to a ready-made avatar at any time, open Settings, then Avatar Choice, and click Use a ready-made avatar. Your photos and recordings are kept. If something looks stuck, see `docs/FAQ.md`.
